MAYOR APPOINTS THE PARK BOARD

ABLE BODY OF COMMISSIONERS IS SELECTED

THREE HAVE NOW ACCEPTED

HENRY GUND, E. L. COLMAN AND
L. F. EASTON WILL SERVE

JOSEPH M. HIXON IS ABSENT

But His Known Interest Leads to Belief He Will Act—Downs
Wants Paul Mahoney

At the council meeting last night, pursuant to the recent ordinance establishing a non-partisan park board, Mayor Anderson announced his appointment of park commissioners in the following communication to the council:

"Pursuant to the provisions of sections 2 and 3 of ordinance No. 479, the following citizens are hereby appointed to constitute a board of park commissioners for the city of La Crosse, subject to the approval of the council:

"For one year—Mr. Henry Gund.
"For two years—Mr. Edward L. Colman.
"For three years—Mr. L. F. Easton.

"For four years—Mrs. Joseph M. Hixon.

"WENDELL A. ANDERSON, Mayor."
Alderman Downs raised the objection that the North side was not represented, and urged that P. W. Mahoney be appointed, his selection being based upon his belief that Mr. Mahoney has been actively interested in parks.

The vote on the confirmation of the appointment was then taken, and resulted unanimously in the affirmative with the exception of Mr. Downs, who voted in the negative.

After the result was announced Mayor Anderson said that he regarded the north side as part of the city of La Crosse, to be fully represented by a city official regardless of the official's residence. On the other angle, the mayor pointed out that Mr. Roberge, secretary of the board of public works, who is a north sider, would fully represent that section of the city.

Of the park commissioners appointed, three have already accepted. They are Henry Gund, Edward L. Colman and L. F. Easton. Joseph M. Hixon is out of the city, and his acceptance has not been received, but it is confidently expected that he will do so for the reason that he is known to be interested in park matters, having been a leading influence in the establishment of the golf links and country club.

POPULAR PASTOR HERE FIVE YEARS

Today's services at the Universalist church, marks the fifth anniversary of the coming to La Crosse of the pastor, Rev. John S. Lowe. Mr. Lowe came to La Crosse on Sunday, April 19, 1903, and during his residence here has become one of the most popular pastors in this part of the state. Although Rev. Lowe has had many invitations to larger fields, and to posts considered more important in the ecclesiastic world, but his marked success here has induced him to reject all offers and continue his work here.

Faculty and Student Mass Split Up
as Result of His Coming Appearance

CHICAGO, April 18.—A serious split in the faculty and the ranks of the students of the university of Chicago is threatened by the probability of Eugene V. Debs addressing the political economy class of the institution. Debs was twice socialist candidate for president and a labor union official, and has always been a constant agitator for the expropriation of Rockefeller.

A number of professors have been compelled to leave the university for coloring their addresses to the political economy classes to favor socialism. Roosevelt, Bryan and Taft have addressed the students, and the large number of the socialist students have insisted on inviting Debs to present arguments for his party. Strenuous objection has been offered, but Mandell hall has been secured and the week of May 11th has been fixed for the address. The occasion has attracted attention to the growing number of agnostics and socialists in the university.

James Duncan, James O'Connell and other members of the subcommittee of the executive committee of the national organization, were dosed with Gompers for several hours today. Gompers declined to discuss the conferences. He also declined to comment on the action of the central federation of labor at Cleveland in taking action favoring the organization of a labor party.

tion between her daughter and her husband. Gould has admitted that his wife began suit last Wednesday for a legal separation. Mrs. Gould's idea is to have them meet among the Virginia mountains, far removed from the influences which led to the present differences.

AN EASTER ALLEGORY

The church was full of lilies;
Outside the sunshine bright;
It felt almost like summer;
I shut my eyes up tight,
And dreamed that I was playing
In our garden, and just then
The organ played and woke me
Just in time to sing, "Amen."

Is O. K.

TOLEDO, O., April 18.—The United Mine Workers will vote on the two years' agreement reached by the operators and miners of the central field at the Toledo conference. A circular signed by Lewis, Secretary Ryan and the district presidents and secretaries, was issued today and sent to all the local unions. It directs the locals to call special meetings at once to vote on the proposition. It also urges them to vote favorably on the two year agreement and to return the vote to the national headquarters at Indianapolis not later than April 25. Pending the result of the vote which is almost certain to be favorable the mines will resume on Monday morning. President Lewis left last night for Kansas City to straighten out differences among the miners of the southwest.

charged last week for playing poker in a car in the barns, all the other employes struck today. The com-

BAN OF THE CHURCH ON HELEN MALONEY

OIL MAGNATE'S DAUGHTER CAN-NOT MARRY AGAIN

ARCHBISHOP RYAN'S EDICT

Says Millions of Martin Maloney Cannot Do What Millions of Henry VIII. Could Not

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—The ban of the Catholic church against another marriage on the part of Helen Maloney, daughter of Martin Maloney, the Standard Oil magnate, to Samuel Clarkson, the Englishman with whom she eloped, was announced today by Archbishop Ryan. "What the millions of King Henry VIII. could not accomplish, certainly the millions of Martin Maloney will not be able to do," was the declaration of the distinguished prelate. "The church recognizes only one marriage, and all subterfuges of law which clever lawyers backed up by money twist to their clients' interest are of no avail against the holy principle for which our church stands."

MRS. VANDERBILT'S LUCK KNOWN TODAY

NEW YORK, April 18.—The report of Referee David McClure, who heard the evidence in Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt's divorce suit, will be filed with the clerk of the supreme court late this afternoon or Monday, according to a report today. It is rumored that Mrs. Vanderbilt has won her cause. If Justice O. Gorman grants the divorce Mrs. Vanderbilt may remarry after three months. During that interim either party may reopen the case with a view of effecting reconciliation or to secure change in the decree.

EXODUS TO FLEET AT LOS ANGELES

OVER 200,000 WILL BE AT SAN PEDRO BAY

SHIPS LEAVE SAN DIEGO

Steam Out in Single File After Firing
Final Salute at 6:05 This Morning

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—The city is decorated gorgeously and expectantly awaiting the fleet which is scheduled to arrive at San Pedro harbor at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Before the sun had risen hundreds of persons thronged the streets with lunch baskets and cameras, all going in one direction. By 8 o'clock the ocean bound trolley cars were jammed. The exodus from the city is unprecedented. It is conservatively estimated that when the fleet is sighted fully 200,000 will be at the seashore. Half an hour after the battleships anchor, Mayor Harper of Los Angeles will make an official call on Admiral Thomas. At 8 tonight the entire fleet will be illuminated.

Fleet Goes to Sea.

SAN DIEGO, April 18.—The Atlantic fleet sailed at 6:05 this morning for San Pedro. The ships started out in single file, the flagship Connecticut leading. A farewell salute of thirteen guns and other fireworks set off from Point Loma at midnight marked the close of the visit. The fleet will not be out of sight of land at any time during the run.

ATTY. SMITH LOSES HOME BY FLAMES

GALESVILLE EDITOR'S HOUSE DESTROYED LAST NIGHT

THE FAMILY WAS AWAY

Only Occupant, Burt Fuller, Had a Narrow Escape—All Effects
Lost

GALESVILLE, Wis., April 18.—
(Special.)—The home of Attorney R. E. Smith, of Galesville, formerly editor of the Independent, was burned to the ground last night. The only occupant was Burt Fuller, a newspaper reporter, Mr. Smith having gone to La Crosse and Mrs. Smith and her little girl being on a visit to friends in Tomah. The fire may have started from a stove, which had been used during the day, but there is a suspicion of incendiarism here, as Mr. Smith had made some enemies in his newspaper career. Fuller had a narrow escape. He was awakened by the smoke, and attempted to escape down the stairway, but was driven back. He then jumped from the window of his room, from which he saved a few articles. The entire household effects of Mr. Smith, valued at $2,000 were lost. The house was owned by Peter Crogan. It was valued at $2,000, and carried $1,400 insurance. Smith's insurance was $1,000.

Mr. R. E. Smith was located at The Stoddard today. He returned to Galesville on the 12:15 train. News of the fire was conveyed to him over the long distance telephone at 7:30 this morning. Mr. Smith had possession of few details, but was inclined to scout the idea that enemies had fired the house.

CORPSE OF MISSING ELAN DONEHOWER FOUND AT BAD AXE

The body of Elan Donehower, of Richmond who disappeared from Trempealeau during the winter, was found yesterday near Bad Axe bend. Relatives of the dead man were in the city last night arranging for the funeral which will be held at once. Donehower disappeared from Trempealeau after a fight with a river guide, and was supposed to have been drowned through the ice.

So far as can be learned there were no marks of violence upon the body.

Hold Inquest.

The body was found by Indians a mile above Genoa, in Raft Channel, floating in the river. The Caledonia district attorney and coroner held an inquest at Genoa today, but being unable to decide if violence caused death will bring the body to La Crosse for an examination by physicians. The body is in good condition, and has no severe marks upon it.

SAYS DRINK SLEW HIS SWEETHEART

LOGANSFORD, Ind., April 18.—
"Drink has killed the sweetest and most innocent girl that ever drew breath; I did not do it, though I did hold the revolver in my hand. It was that damnable spirit of booze that committed the murder. Drink simply turned me into worse than a beast, because I killed the one whom I loved above all."

This is the statement of Worley Osborne, wanted at Kokomo for the murder of his sweetheart, Fairy McClain, April 7, when arrested in the railroad yards here early today. It was Osborne's desire to return home that caused his capture.

AN EXPERT SO TESTIFIES

PURPOSE TO SHOW THAT CHARG-ES ARE "FRAMED UP"

THE COMMITTEE CAN'T ADVISE.

Finds Its Duty Is Limited to Findings of Fact and It Can't Roast Him

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—
Sensational in the dramatic suddenness with which it came, expert testimony was submitted today before the Lilley investigating committee to show that certain documents introduced by Lilley, author of the charges of attempted corruption in congress, were written on the same typewriter as the two acrimonious letters charging Representative Loud of Michigan, with improper dealings with the Electric Boat company. David N. Carvalho, of New York, the best known expert in the identification of type-writing in the country, testified unequivocally that the typewriting on the documents and letters were identical and had been executed by the same machine.

Cannot Recommend

Reports that the committee would recommend to the house that Lilley be reprimanded were set at rest today when it was found the committee has no right to make a recommendation of any sort to the house. The committee, after studying the phraseology of the resolution authorizing the inquiry, has decided its only duty is to report to the house that the charges are true or unfounded as the case may be. It is understood the committee has practically decided to report that the charges have not been sustained by the evidence adduced in the inquiry.

SENATE IN DOUBLE EULOGY PART TODAY

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Today in the senate was set apart to honor the memory of the late Senator John T. Morgan and Edmund Winston Pettus, both of Alabama. The occasion was memorable not only because of the eminent character and distinguished services of the dead statesmen, but because it was the first time in the history of the republic that the senate has been called upon to mourn on the same day the loss of two of its members from the same state.

ELIOT TAKES RAP
AT COLLEGE SPORTS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 18.—President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard University is still opposed to what he calls "the exaggeration of athletic sports in schools and colleges." He made his annual report to the board of overseers and in his general criticism he reiterated his former statements on football. The great college sport is considered by him to be the least useful of all the games.

YOUNGSTERS TRYING HARD

Freeport Loses Last Game to Beloit
College Team; Madison Hard
After Jack Warhop

The first game of the season is in progress at the league park this afternoon and a fine bunch of youngsters are scattered about the field mingled with a few regulars trying their utmost to kill two birds with one stone—first to defeat their rivals and second to win the hearts of the grand stand full of enthusiasts. The field day set for this afternoon was declared off and will be held two weeks from today when the players will be in better shape and the weather more favorable. The players are still sore and it was decided that a better showing could be made later in the season so May 2 has been decided upon.

Champions Lose Last
Freeport lost their last game of the series to the Beloit college nine yesterday when they fell before the mighty arm of Lien, the young collegian. His work was superb. He struck out ten men and in the seventh inning with the bases full and no outs he held the Pretzels down without a man crossing the plate.

A home run by Armin, the first man at bat gave the victory to the college boys. Musser pitched for the champs.

Madison After Warhop
With reference to the purchase of Warhop for Madison the State Journal gives the following:
"Jack Warhop wants to come to Madison, and already there is a movement on to bring the star twirler to the capital city.

"A number of fans this morning conferred with the Madison manager, who told them that he would take immediate steps to find out the purchase price held on the kid wonder. Just as soon as he gets this information he will give in to the fans who talked with him, providing the purchase figure is not too high to raise the money by popular subscription, the local association, of course, to stand for a portion of the outlay of money."

"Warhop's position in this matter is simply this:

"He is not yet ripe to play in the big league so it will be necessary for him to perform in minor league ball. He feels that if he can play where he knows people and where he has friends it will be much more pleasant than to pitch in a strange country. As far as the boy making good, well, that phase of the case is not to be discussed as Warhop has established, beyond all doubt, that he is a pitcher of great ability. Jennings, Detroit's famous manager, in an interview, spoke highly of Warhop, but said he was a little light for national or American league ball."

GANS GOES WEST
TO GET A MATCH

CHICAGO, Ill., April 18.—Champion Lightweight Joe Gans passed through the city Thursday en route to San Francisco, where he will close a match to fight either Bating Nelson, Rudolph Unholz or Packey McFarland.

Gans stated he has an agreement to fight Nelson twenty rounds before Jack Gleason's club, but learned a day or two ago that the Dane welched on the proposition and demands the articles be changed to read for forty-five rounds or to a finish. Joe does not care to fight more than twenty rounds and believes he can give Bat all he wants in the fighting line in that distance, and would like to convince Nelson that a fight at that route would bring a decisive winner.

THE PARK COMMISSION.

"But nothing could be more futile than the expectation that Mayor Anderson would appoint a non-partisan commission even if directed to do so by law. The mayor is incapable of doing anything so broad and public spirited as that, and the Chronicle would have no confidence in his purpose to create such a commission even following a direct promise to do so."—R. B. Gelatt in Chronicle editorial, March 14.

Last night Mayor Anderson appointed Messrs. Henry Gund, Edward L. Colman, L. F. Easton and Joseph M. Hixon as park commissioners.

"And such a commission should be composed of men of ability and judgment and public spirit. But men of this character will not consent to serve upon a commission that serves without pay and has only the satisfaction of achievement for compensation" etc. (meaning under the proposed ordinance).—R. B. Gelatt in Chronicle editorial March 17.

Of Mayor Anderson's appointees Messrs. Gund, Colman, Easton and Hixon—three have already accepted, and there is every reason to believe the fourth one will accept.

"It is a pity that legislation so important as that establishing a board of park commissioners for this city was left to be proposed by the present mayor and to be infiltrated with his peculiar ideas of public spirit and political thimble-rigging. The proposed ordinance reserves so many powers to the mayor and council that it is difficult to make out and still more difficult to see how any self-respecting citizen with real enthusiasm for the work of park improvement could accept appointment to membership in it."—R. B. Gelatt in Chronicle Editorial March 15.

Of the park commissioners appointed by the mayor last night two, Messrs. Colman and Hixon, are republicans. Mr. Gund, we believe, crossed with the gold democrats in the republican column during the first Bryan campaign. What his afiliation is today we cannot say, nor is it of the least significance in its relation to his activities as park commissioner. Mr. Easton is a democrat.

Public interest in the park board proposition has from the first centered upon the possibilities which the program unfolds, there having been no response to dishonest suggestions intended to create the suspicion that the mayor would sacrifice fitness to politics in making his appointments. The personnel of the commission he has selected speaks for itself, and we leave to "The Gossiper" the silly task of acquainting the public—and the appointees themselves—with the most honorable superlative qualifications of the distinguished commissioners, concluding of course with a warning to the gentlemen that they have been trapped by a shifty politician who expects to make their appointment a stepping stone to the gubernatorial chair, or this or that equally idiotic exposure of a brain blighting venom.

THE TRIUMPH OF BOSS RULE.

The Taft newspapers are finding deep pleasure in the fact that Senator La Follette failed to get a look in at the Minnesota convention which elected delegates to the national republican convention. However, this is but an exemplification of the injustice of the "gag" power in states using the old convention method. Had there been a primary law for the election of national delegates in Minnesota, La Follette would have secured a number of the state's quota of twenty-two, for while Taft had the majority following in most of the districts, there were a number of them that preferred the Wisconsin senator.

This was true in Nebraska, also. It is true in New Hampshire, North Dakota, Oregon and Washington. In none of these states that have not held their elections, and in which the primary method of selecting delegates has not at this time been adopted, will there be an accurate expression of public sentiment, for it is more than probable that under the majority rule system solid Taft delegations will be named.

Could there have been an independent and unhampered exertion of La Follette's strength throughout the country, it is probable that the senator would have gone into the convention with delegates from a dozen to a score of states, and that next to Secretary Taft he would have had the strongest backing on the first ballot. In that event he would have been in an admirable position to take advantage of the possible failure of the war secretary to land the nomination on the first ballot. Indeed, even under present conditions, a switch to him in case a nomination is early blocked is among the not hopelessly remote possibilities.

The dispatch with which the common council disposes of the multifarious routine which comes before it is as nice an example of accurate and snappy method as could be wished in a public business body.

The illness of Senator La Follette will be regretted, particularly as the nearing close of the session makes every minute of the time of the active leaders valuable. Wisconsin hopes for his speedy recovery.

The house of representatives yesterday pronounced the death sentence on the Aldrich currency bill. Perhaps to redeem it from the reputation of being a "do nothing" congress—that was its greatest achievement of the session.

FASHION HINTS

By MAY MANTON

5965 Child's Dress, 2, 4 and 6 years.

Dresses for the very little children are peculiarly charming when made with half low necks and sleeves that terminate just above the elbows and this one is dainty and attractive in the extreme. In the illustration white Persian lawn is trimmed with embroidered banding; but all the pretty materials that are used for little girls' dresses are appropriate and just now there is a special fancy for the Dresden dimities, lawns and the like with trimming of embroidery or lace. There are epaulettes that are exceedingly becoming to childish figures and the dress is altogether a very attractive one while it is exceedingly simple to make.

The dress is made with the fronts and the back, which are tucked at the neck edges, and with the pretty full sleeves that are gathered into bands. The epaulettes are arranged over the dress and attached to position beneath the trimming band.

The quantity of material required for the medium size (4 years) is 3 3/4 yards 24, 2 1/2 yards 32 or 44 inches wide with 6 1/2 yards of banding.

The pattern 5965 is cut in sizes for girls of 2, 4 and 6 years of age and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two-cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

QUIPS AND CRANKS AND WANTON WILES

The Latest Fad
"Tis now the time that I arise
And boldly draw the line;
'Tis time that I asserted here
The rights quite plainly mine
I've stood for merry widow hats,
For bridge—but by the fates,
One fad I will not stand, and that's
The fad of roller skates!"

Two years I've worn full patiently
The yoke, submitting to
All fads and follies that maybe,
Fair Nellie wished to do.
I've stood for peck-a-boos and things,
Because we two are mates,
But I won't stand for, no, by Jings!
This fad of roller skates!

Think you I'd stand to see my wife
Go rolling down the road
And like a dancer pirouette
In front of my abode?
Shall I see her cut pigeon wings
And fancy figure eights?
Not much! 'I'll stand for many things,
But not for roller skates!"

The barn dance roused my ire, but I Submitted, nor complained.
I did not even blink an eye
To show that I was pained.
Don't think that this is idle talk
But one who trouble hates;
I'll not be driven from the walk
When Nellie roller skates.

I've had to bend to tie her shoe,
I've buttoned up her waist;
Her rubbers I have put on, too,
On errands I've been chased
At times that humbled me in pride,
But here I close the gates;
I'll not consent to step aside,
When she's on roller skates.

THE PAUPER OF PARK LANE

By William Le Queux

closely written in French, he handed it across to Barclay, as he added: "Now what is written there is the bed-rock fact. I know from independent inquiries I have made in an entirely different quarter."

Between mouthfuls of the perfectly cooked filet de sole placed before him Max read the letter carefully. It was signed "your devoted friend Osman," and was evidently from a Turkish official at the Yildiz Kiosk. Briefly, it was to the effect that the irade of the Sultan for the construction of the railway from Nisch in Serbia to San Giovanni di Medua, on the Adriatic, was in the hands of Muhil Pasha, one of his Majesty's most intimate officials, and had been granted to him for services rendered in the Asiatic provinces.

Muhil had offered to part with it for twelve thousand pounds sterling, and that the agent of a French company had arrived in Constantinople in order to treat with him. Muhil, however, had no love for the French, since he was Ottoman Ambassador in Paris a few years ago, and got into disgrace there, hence he would be much more ready to sell to an English syndicate.

The letter of Osman concluded by urging Adam to send instructions at once to a certain box at the British post office in Constantinople, and to if possible secure the valuable document which would enable a line of railway to be built which would pay its shareholders enormously.

"Well," exclaimed Max, as he replaced the letter in its envelope, noting the surcharge in black—"I please!"—upon the blue English stamp. "What shall you do?"

"Do?" Why we must get the twelve thousand, of course. It's a mere bagatelle compared with the magnitude of the business. I've got some reports in my overcoat pocket which I'll show you after supper. We must get the thing through, my dear Barclay. There's a big fortune in it for both of us—a huge fortune. Why, for the past ten years every diplomat at the Sublime Porte has been at work to get it through, but has been unsuccessful. The Sultan has always refused to let the line run through Turkish territory, fearing lest it should be used for military transport in the event of another war. His Majesty is not particularly partial to Austria, Serbia, or Bulgaria, you know," he laughed.

"And hardly surprising, in view of past events, eh?" exclaimed Max, entirely ignorant of the real character of this man, who seemed a smart man of business combined with a genial companion. Adam was a past-master in the art of fraud. He did not press the point, but merely went on with his supper, swallowed a glass of champagne, and turned the conversation by admiring the graceful carriage of the head of a girl sitting near with a wreath of forget-me-nots across her fluffy hair.

"Yes," replied Max. "The poise of her hair is full of grace, but—well, her face is like the carved handle of an umbrella!" Whereat his companion laughed heartily. Barclay was full of quaint expressions, and of a quiet but biting sarcasm. Some of his bon mots had been repeated from mouth to mouth in the clubs until they became almost popular sayings. He was now in love entirely and devotedly with Marion, and no other woman of the thousand who passed before his eyes and smiled into his face had the least attraction for him.

A moment later a pretty girl in pink, the Honorable Eva Townley, who was at supper with her mother and some friends, bowed to him and laughed, while another woman, the rather go-ahead wife of a leader at the Chancery Bar, waved a menu at him.

Society knew Max, and many a woman had set her cap at him, hoping to capture the tall, well-set-up and easy-going young fellow, together with the ease and comfort which his substantial estates would afford. Max, however, had done a few years of town life. He had become blasé and nauseated. Since he had met Marion Rolfe the quiet, modest, unassuming and hard-working shop assistant, the haute monde bored him more than ever. He went only where he was compelled, yet he now-days preferred the cheap Italian restaurant and Marion's society to the tables of the rich with their ugly women striving to fascinate, and their small-talk of scandal, gossip and cruel innuendo.

There is surely no world in the world like that of London—nothing so complex, so tragic, and yet so grimly humorous, so soul-killing, and yet so reckless as our little, lax world of vanity and display that calls itself Society, the world which the nouveau riche are ever seeking to enter by the back-door, and which the suburbs rush to see portrayed upon the stage of the theatre.

Everywhere the manner and morals of Mayfair are aped nowadays. Mrs. Browne-Smith, the city clerk's wife of tattering Tooting, has her "day," and gives her bridge-parties just as does the Duchess of Dorsetshire in Grosvenor Square; and Mrs. Claude Greene, the wife of the wholesale butcher, who was once a barmaid near the Meat Market, and now lives in matrimonial felicity in Clivey Clapham, "requests the company of" upon the self-same cards and with the self-same formula as the wife of Jimmy James the South African magnate in Park Lane.

Max, glad that supper was over, rose and walked with his friend out into the big lounge where the Roumanian band were playing weird gypsy melodies, and sat at one of the little tables to smoke and sip Grand Marnier cordon rouge, being joined a few moments later by a couple of men whom he knew at the club, and who appeared to be at a loose end.

At last the lights were turned down as signal that in five minutes it would be closing time, and then rising, Max ignorant of the ingenious plot, invited his friend Adam round to Dover Street for a final smoke.

CHAPTER XX.

Explains Jean Adam's Suggestion. Over whiskey and soda in Barclay's chambers, Jean Adam pushed his sinister plans a trifle further.

He was aware that Max had taken the opinion of a man he knew on the Stock Exchange as to the probable value of the concession for the Danube-Adriatic railway, and that his reply had been highly favourable. Therefore he was confident that such an opportunity of making money by an honest deal Max would not let slip.

They had known each other several months, and Adam, with his engaging manner and courteous bearing, had wormed himself into the younger man's confidence. A dozen times Max had been his host, but on each occasion the other took good care to quickly return the hospitality. To Max he represented himself as a resident in Constantinople. A few years ago he had been fortunate enough to obtain a concession from the Ottoman Government which being floated in Paris had placed him in a very comfortable position; and he was now about to aim for bigger and more lucrative things.

LIVED IN THREE CENTURIES VIGOROUS AND STRONG AT 108

MRS. MARY WILKINS, 108 years old.

Thousands of letters like Mrs. Wilkins' are received from grateful men and women who cannot say too much in praise of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the benefit derived from its use.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system; is a promoter of health and longevity; makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Price $1.00. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Write Dr. R. Curran, Consulting Physician, for free copy illustrated medical booklet and free advice. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Mary Wilkins, of Remington, Ind., mother of Dr. John A. Wilkins of Delta, Ind., is one of the oldest residents of the state, having lived in three centuries and being in her 109th year.

She was born in County Tyrone, Ireland, September, 29th, 1799, and came to this country with her husband in 1840. She is the mother of four children all living. At the present time she is visiting a daughter in Indiana and is in splendid health. She enjoyed an automobile ride a few days ago and was greatly pleased at the speed. Mrs. Wilkins remembers the crowning of Queen Victoria, and enjoys telling of the experiences and conditions of a hundred years ago.

On January 18th, Margaret Watson, daughter of Mrs. Wilkins sent the following letter from her mother:

"DEAR MR. DUFFY:—I want to tell you about your medicine, it is doing me so much good. I am now a very old woman. I have passed my 108th birthday. Since taking your Pure Malt Whiskey my appetite is better, and I am stronger. I rest better and my daughter who is 75 years old, says I am getting younger every day. I feel that your Whiskey is a food and that it will keep me alive for a great many years more. Your Malt Whiskey makes me think of the whiskey they make in Ireland. You may put this in the paper if you want to."

THIS IS THE 133 ANNIVERSARY OF THE FAMOUS "RIDE OF PAUL REVERE"

Paul Revere on His Ride, From a Painting by J. Steeple Davis—Henry W. Longfellow Whose Poem Made Paul Revere Famous.

One hundred and thirty-three years ago tonight Paul Revere made his famous ride, advising the people in the vicinity of Boston of the proposed attack of the British regulars. This ride has been made famous by Longfellow's poem, "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere." He tells in a simple manner how Paul Revere on the eighteenth of April, 1775, in accordance with a prearranged signal in the old North Church at Boston, rode and spread the alarm.

"Through every Middlesex village and farm,
For the country folk to be up and to arm."

Paul Revere was a gold and silver smith by trade and one of the twelve mechanics who banded themselves together as a vigilance committee to watch the British fleet then anchored in Boston harbor.

Nervous Break-Down

Nerve energy is the force that controls the organs of respiration, circulation, digestion and elimination. When you feel weak, nervous, irritable, sick, it is often because you lack nerve energy, and the process of rebuilding and sustaining life is interfered with.
Dr. Miles' Nerveine has cured thousands of such cases, and will we believe benefit if not entirely cure you. Try it.

"My nervous system gave away completely, and left me on the verge of the grave. I tried skilled physicians but got no permanent relief.
I got so bad I had to give up my business. I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine. In a few days
I was much better, and I continued to improve until entirely cured.
I am in business again, and never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy." MRS. W. L. BURKE, Grout Creek, Oregon.

Capt. Schwickardi Writes

"I Have the Fullest Confidence in the Efficacy of Pe-ru-na."

RUDOLPH B. SCHWICKARDI.

A War Veteran's Tribute to Pe-ru-na.

Rudolph B. Schwickardi, Capt. 39th N. Y. Vol. Inf., writes from 1818 G St., N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows:
"Having the fullest confidence in the efficacy of Pe-ru-na, both as a tonic and as a remedy for catarrhal trouble, I commend its use in the strongest possible terms. It should be in every household."

War Left Ailments.

Mr. William J. Lees, 3501 Morgan St.,
St. Louis, Mo., member Frank P. Blair
Post No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic, and ex-Commander of the U. S. S. Benton Miss. Squadron, writes:

"The war left me with a complication of stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and I decided to take Pe-ru-na for my ailment. I began to use it about five years ago at the earnest solicitation of some friends. At that time I was only able to be up about half of the time, and my health was simply miserable. I consider a bottle off and on is a preventive.

"I certainly do endorse your remedy, and am glad to do so."

Helped From Chronic Catarrh.

Capt. Lemuel M. Hutchinson, Montpelier, Vt., writes:

"It gives me pleasure to write you this letter at this time on account of the good your Pe-ru-na has done me when I was quite done up with a very bad cold.

"I could hardly perform my ordinary duties, but from the use of Pe-ru-na I am almost restored to health. I am quite convinced that it has helped me from chronic catarrh, to which I am subject.
It has also benefited my throat.

"I can truly recommend it as the best all-round medicine it has been my privilege to become acquainted with.

"Of this I am quite convinced from my own experience."

Mr. W. C. Rollins, Prairie View,
Texas, Secretary of the State Normal and Industrial College of Texas, writes that for years he had chills and fever, and after taking Pe-ru-na his appetite returned, he became stronger, the fever left him, and he is now in excellent health and vigor.

Cured of Croup By Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

JAMES GRUBB.

EDITH GRUBB.

"When our children were small they were subject to croup," says Mr. J. R. Grubb of 723 South Fourth Street, Albuquerque, N. M. "One night they were both taken at once. I ran for the doctor. They grew worse very rapidly. My wife thought they would surely die before I returned. One of them already looked like death, when she remembered that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. She gave them large doses of it, and when I returned with the doctor the babies were all right, the danger was over. She told the doctor just what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was made of, but that it had, without doubt, saved the babies' lives. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a child with perfect confidence."

DOUBLE GATES OR VIADUCT OR BOTH

COUNCIL TAKES SUFFICIENT ACTION FOR SAFETY

WANTS CROSSING PROTECTED

Auditorium Will Be Constructed on the Market Square—Paving and Other Matters Acted Upon

At the special meeting of the common council last evening steps were taken regarding the protection of the Mill street crossing, for pedestrians and teams. A resolution was introduced by Alderman Keller, and adopted, in which the Milwaukee road is requested to put in a double set of gates at that crossing, the gates to be erected on the four sides of the crossing in such a manner that when the gates on Mill street are open the gates stopping locomotives and cars will be down and vice versa. The resolution met with no opposition.

Resolution Asks Viaduct.
Another resolution was introduced by Alderman Keller in which the Milwaukee road is asked to erect a viaduct over the Mill street crossing, the La Crosse City Railway company to run its track over same viaduct. The resolution was referred to the committee on railroads.

Auditorium on Market.
The petition of the La Crosse Saengerfest association asking permission to erect a temporary building on the Market square was granted. An appropriation of $750 was granted, and $750 is to be paid at a later date. The building erected on the market square is to be removed no later than November 15.

Pavement Ordered.
The following streets were ordered paved with granite top dressing: Charles street on the North side, from Clinton street to Gillette street and Kane street from Clinton to Logan streets. On the South side, Sixth street from Jackson street to the Mormon Coulee road. Vine street from Fourth to Sixth, and Fifth street from State to Vine, were ordered paved with brick. The alley between Second and Third and Ferry and Division streets will also be paved with brick.

The paving of Vine street from Sixth to West avenue was re-referred to the board of public works for further consideration.

Minor Matters.
The Mississippi river wagon bridge was made free to Pettibone island from the first of May to the first of October.

An ordinance was passed for the reducing the size of the bulletin boards and the board was authorized to build new boards. When completed they will be placed at the various wards for official notices, and when not in use will be kept by the city clerk.

Permission was granted to the Green Bay railroad to erect a side track to the new normal site, to cross the State street road and to be used for hauling building material for the new normal school.

A petition for sewer on Eleventh street between King and Cass streets was denied.

The board of public works was authorized to have the water pipe raised at the La Crosse river wagon bridge without a formal contract. The estimated cost was between $300 and $400.

The petition from the Advance Bedding company for permission to erect a two story frame building adjoining their factory was referred to the fire committee.

A resolution was adopted instructing the health officer to hire three garbage wagons from May 1 to November 1. Two wagons to be used on the South side and one on North La Crosse.

The matter of paving the alley between Thirteenth and Fourteenth between King and Main streets was referred to the street improvement committee.

Aldermen Keller introduced an ordinance providing that no railroad crossing be obstructed for more than five minutes at one time. A fine from $10 to $25 was provided and passed for its violation.

Private lessons given in reading, arithmetic, spelling, geography, stenography, typewriting and penmanship. New phone, 385M.

B. OF R. T. BALL

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will hold their nineteenth annual banquet and ball Monday night in the Woodman hall. There will be a grand electrical display in which 900 incandescent lights will be used. The room will be decorated so as to give the effect of a waiting room in a union depot. Among the features on the program will be a Moonlight and setting sun dance. Kreutz's full orchestra will furnish the music.

FUNERAL OF CHILD.

The funeral of Dwight Hallock, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Saries, was held at 2:30 this afternoon from the residence, 927 Rose street. Rev. C. N. Moeller of the Christ Episcopal church officiated at the services, and interment was made at the Oak Grove cemetery.

RATE CUT SHOCK TO THE LAWMAKERS

FIRST REDUCTION SINCE 2-CENT RATE LAW

NORTHWESTERN AND OMAHA

Put Cent and a Half Fare into Force for Democratic and Republican National Conventions

MADISON, Wis., April 18.—(Special.)—The cut by the Northwestern and Omaha roads in the rates to Chicago and Denver for the republican and democratic national conventions is the first one that has been made since the two-cent fare law went into effect. The rate of two cents has been held up since that time to the mark without a deviation and the announcement that a rate would be made to the conventions came as a surprise in some quarters.

The rate made by the Northwestern and Omaha roads is one and one-half cents a mile. Other roads will be compelled to meet this rate if they want any of the business, so that the probability is that after the convention there will be other rates made for excursion business similar to this. This is a sort of a precedent in the matter.

John T. Gething, local passenger agent, announced today the selling dates for reduced sale tickets to the Chicago convention will be June 12 to June 14, with June 17 as the final going date and with June 30 as the return limit. Stopover tickets will be announced by the individual roads later.

The Western Passenger association in a meeting last week practically acquiesced in the reduction in rates to the Chicago convention. It is understood from railroad officials here that from some western points the rate will be slightly lower than one and one-half cents per mile. The round trip rate from Denver, with the rates from intermediate points proportionate, will be $30 flat although the distance somewhat exceeds 1,000 each way.

While the reduction in rate will probably increase the travel to Chicago during the few days it is in effect, the great importance of it is in fact that it is the first cut that has been made since the changed conditions in railroad affairs were brought about.

There are many citizens of Madison who believe that having broken the agreement for regular rates, the railroads will be besieged with requests for rates to other meetings. Some railroad men figure that many of the people, who travel on excursion rates would not travel otherwise and so a cheap rate is just like finding business.

WITNESSES ARE SMUGGLED AWAY

SUPERIOR, Wis., April 18.—The illegal voting case growing out of the primary election here on March 24 has had to be dismissed on account of the alleged spiriting away of witnesses. John Sant was the defendant and Mrs. A. Polyzanski the complaining witness. She claimed her husband could not vote because he had not been here long enough and that Sant, who had been here but six months, voted anyway. The woman wanted the reward of $50 offered by the Linley campaign committee, and she had Sant arrested.

PLENTY OF FARM LABOR IF PAID FOR

HEAD OF LABOR BUREAU SAYS THERE IS NO SHORTAGE

HAS HAD 1,000 APPLICATIONS

Almost as Many Young Men Wanted Work and Were Supplied: Favors a Farm Employment Bureau

MADISON, Wis., April 18.—(Special.)—There may be some complaint about the scarcity of farm labor, but I believe that it is more a matter of wages.

This was the statement made by J. D. Beck, head of the bureau of labor and statistics today. During the past two months his department, together with the free employment bureaus, which operate under the supervision of the department, has placed many men on the farms. Mr. Beck says that during the past two months the department has found employment for 750 men on farms. The wages range all the way from $15 to $35 a month and maintenance.

Had 1,000 Applications
"I think there were about 1,000 applications of farmers received saying they would like to secure farm hands," said Mr. Beck. "There were probably about 750 applications of young men who wanted work on farms and employment was easily secured for them. Of the number of young men who applied about nine-tenths of them were men working in cities, who wanted to get employment on farms. We have received some applications of men

PRONOUNCED HIS CASE INCURABLE

Whole Body Raw with Eczema—Life was Intolerable—Was Even Incased in Plaster—Discharged from Hospitals as Hopeless.

SUFFERED 14 YEARS CURED BY CUTICURA

"From the age of three months until fifteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable by eczema in its worst form. He was all right until a red rash broke out on his forehead, but we were not alarmed at first. Very soon, however, the rash began to spread over his head and shoulders, and it caused him great discomfort. I took him to a doctor and tried half a dozen other treatments, all with the same result; no improvement at all. The disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw. We had to strap him down in bed, for he used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep. The agony he went through is quite beyond words. No one thought we would rear him. The regimental doctor, a very clever man, pronounced the case hopeless; at least, he said the only hope was that he might, if he lived long enough, outgrow it to some extent. He had him in hospital four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases, if not the worst, ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable; in fact he got worse under the successive treatments. At one hospital they incased him in plaster, and this seemed to aggravate the soreness terribly. He looked so badly that no one liked to go near him and his life was a burden to him. We kept trying remedy after remedy, but we had got almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago we purchased a set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent Pills and persevered with them. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured, his skin not having a blemish on it anywhere. Mrs. Lily Hedge, 51, Vaughan Road, Coldharbour Lane, Camblewell Green, Eng., Jan. 12, 1907."

THE BLUE BELL ARMY

Comparatively few people have any idea of the size of the standing army of employees maintained by the Bell companies to give the people of the United States the promptest, most courteous, most accurate and most extensive intercommunicating telephone service in the world.

At the beginning of 1907 the forces enrolled under the familiar badge of the Blue Bell numbered about 90,000. This is only 10,000 less than the maximum strength which the standing army of the United States is allowed to reach and it is far in excess of the present total enlisted force of 60,000.

If all the Bell telephone workers of the United States, together with their families and dependents, were to settle down in one place they would make another Milwaukee. Such a showing proves that the Bell employees are members of one of the great industrial organizations, and with a total of about 14,000,000 messages to handle daily over some 6,000,000 miles of wire, all are kept busy.

Thomas Wins "Times" Cup

THOMAS FLYER HAS JUST WON THE LARGEST RACE EVER
RUN IN AMERICA

At the beginning of the New York to Paris Race, the New York Times offered a cup for the first car to arrive at San Francisco. This cup was won by the Thomas Flyer, America's champion, which reached the coast 11 1/4 days ahead of its nearest competitor. The entire trip, 3,800 miles, was run in only forty-two days, in face of the fact that the country was crossed at the very worst possible season, when snow, rain, hail, mud and ice blocked every road. The car in this race is a regular stock Thomas Flyer, such as are in use by Thomas owners everywhere. It has distinctly demonstrated its unquestionable superiority for American travel, not alone in any one section of the United States, but throughout the entire country. It is a plain fact that the significance of this race can't be over-estimated by prospective purchasers of motor cars.

The Thomas Flyer represents America—made for America—and constructed with the view of overcoming American conditions. It stands alone as America's great champion.

If you're going to buy a motor car to use anywhere in America, it will pay you to look first toward the name "Thomas."

The E. R. Thomas Motor Co. offer a $100.00 prize for the best photo of the Thomas Flyer taken during its trip across the United States. Write Photographic Department for conditions.

$1,000 FOR A WOMAN.

There may be nothing new under the sun, but "When the Mummy Moves" is certainly an original title for a story. It is, of course, a story of mystery and it is so ingenious and interesting a mystery that The Chicago Record-Herald, in which it appears serially, offers a first prize of $1,000 to the woman who makes the best solution, with 115 other cash prizes for women and girls who make the next best solutions. The story begins in The Record-Herald Thursday, April 23, and the conditions of the contest will be found, accompanying each installment, in that paper. Those who have been unable to get The Record-Herald containing the early installments may obtain a reprint of those installments by writing to the Prize Bystery Editor, The Record-Herald, Chicago. Was in the Crowd

Under libel proceedings begun by creditors, the small rafting steamboat, "C. W. Cowles" often seen in local waters, was sold at the Jackson street levee, St. Paul, by Deputy U. S. Marshal W. W. Rich.

The purchaser, William Irvine, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., paid the low price of $1,000 for the small stern-wheeler. This sum is said to be about twice the amount of the libellant's claims against the former owner, George Winons, who was also the captain of the boat.

Only three or four bidders were present and they displayed but little eagerness. Among the onlookers was former Gov. Van Sant, one of the few remaining Minnesota magnates of the fluvial wave. But the governor made no bids.

Rud, George Aschoer, Ole Moe, S. Reffe and Nils Larson were elected to serve as a board. M. Severson was elected janitor. Officers for the Sunday school were elected as follows: H. Gilbertson, president; Mrs. J. D. Johnson, vice president.

Dr. Turbin has, today, the largest medical practice in his line that has ever been established in this city. He not only has it today but will hold it in the future.

His success is not dependent upon the space he uses in the newspapers. His skillful, courteous and successful treatment of patients, the knowledge of the diseases in his specialty, and his scientific mastery over them, are the basis of his success. He does not countenance any of the fake or fraudulent schemes presented by so many specialists to obtain patronage, but conducts his business upon a strictly professional basis.

He is a regular graduate of some of the best medical colleges, and has a record of skilled ability in his specialty which is not to be surpassed by any other physician in the country.

His training, years of practice, constant study and experience in battling with disease, splendidly equip him for his work. Every one who suffers from any ailment for which medical science has found an avenue of relief, should call upon the doctor, as each and every case is given the most painstaking attention. Each individual is given the full benefit of the doctor's knowledge and skill, and can be assured of the best medical treatment, the most earnest interest, and the care which will insure satisfactory results from his treatment.

Consultation is free at his office. Dr. Turbin has for many years visited our city, and will again be in La Crosse at Hotel La Crosse, Tuesday, April 21st.

PETER PAN RARE TREAT WEDNESDAY

PLAY MADE FAMOUS BY MAUDE ADAMS NEXT WEEK

A WELL BALANCED COMPANY

Will Present This Barrie Play in This City and a Big Audience Is Expected

Charles Frohman will bring to the La Crosse theatre on Wednesday, April 22, J. M. Barrie's popular play "Peter Pan." Peter Pan is now in its third year of favor with theatergoers in America and in its fifth year of success in England. The Barrie play calls for an exceptionally large and well balanced company, and the organization selected by Mr. Frohman to present Peter Pan to local theatergoers is one of unusual merit. Peter Pan contains many minor characters that call for peculiar sorts of abilities and Mr. Frohman has spared no effort to obtain the services of players who possess these abilities. The result is that the presentation of Peter Pan here will be marked by all the care and attention to detail that characterized its production in the Empire theatre, New York, and the Duke of York's theatre, London. There are more than sixty persons in the cast, and a large staff of stage hands and electricians.

CHIEF LOSES FREE PHONE.

CROOKSTON, Minn., April 18.—The Crookston city council is having a telephone war all its own. The city fathers last night ordered the telephone taken out of the residence of the chief of police. Herebefore it had been the custom to permit the chief of police to have a telephone charged against the city expenses fund. But when the lists had been completed and approved by the city council the company found thirteen telephones on their free city list and found the residence of the chief of police was not granted one. Thereupon the chief's telephone was taken out. But now it is found that three or four of the aldermen who have no public use for a telephone at all are getting their telephones free, and in consequence an effort will be made to secure the reinstatement of the chief's telephone.

SPARKLING BEAUTY SHOW NEXT FEATURE

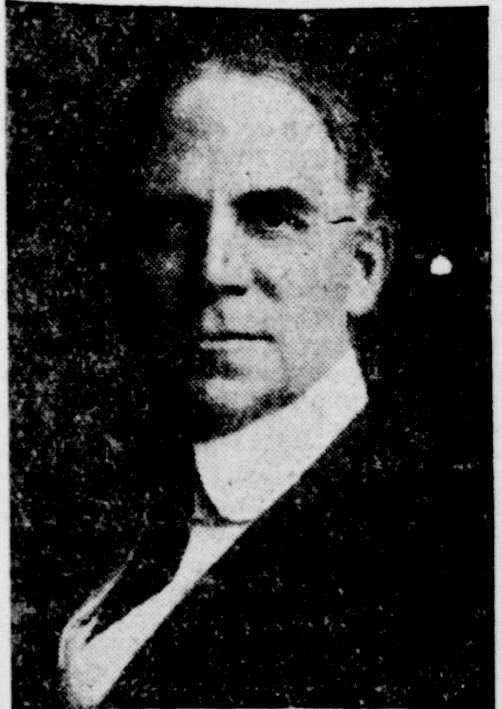

TIME, PLACE AND THE GIRL HAS BIG CHORUS

POPULAR PIECE HAS BIG SALE

Indications are That La Crosse Enjoys a Musical Comedy and Will Turn Out Enmasse Monday

"The Time, the place and the Girl" be it understood, is not a musical comedy, but a "comedy, with music." That is to say that its drastic values would be sufficient to provide an evening's entertainment for a mental adult, even if there were no songs to enliven the proceedings. It is legitimate comedy, with a sane plot and situations, and legitimately enhanced by two or three delightful reproductions of unusual and amusing character types.

The most interesting characters in the piece are those of "Happy" Johnny Hicks and Molly Kelly, played by John E. Young and Miss Elizabeth Goodall, the latter a recent recruit from the legitimate stage. Hicks is a bright, good hearted young gambler, full of sentiment. Molly Kelly is a trained nurse sophisticated, but not unpleasantly so, with a perfect mastery of the gentle art of repartee. These two meet in a Virginian mountain "rest cure," whither Hicks has fled with his rich chum, Tom Cunningham, who is in trouble, and they fall in love. It happens that Cunningham in a controversy with a card shark in Boston, smashed his opponent with a wine bottle. When the officers of the law follow them to their hiding place at the sanitarium, Hicks shoulders the blame—only to find that the injured man is the black sheep brother of Molly, the nurse.

Though the piece could be played without music, Mr. Howard's pretty songs make it doubly attractive. There are a dozen musical numbers in the play, but they are all lilting and descriptive and never in the way of the plot development. The particular hits are "Thursday is My Jonah day," "It's Lonesome Tonight," and "Blow the Smoke Away," and "Dixie I Love You." The large chorus which assists in the rendition of the score was trained by Ned Wayburn, who in "The Time, the Place and the Girl" manifests the most skillful phases of his art as a stage director. At the La Crosse theatre Monday, April 20.

APRIL'S NOTIONS

Out you go in April weather:
Back you run again.
For you've scarcely gotten started
When down comes the rain.

Then, just as you're settled, reading,
Brightly shines the sun;
And your book is quite forgotten
As out again you run.

Just a little way you hurry
When, to your surprise,
Sunshine ceases, gloom's about you,
And clouds veil the skies.

But what is the use of running
To your home again?
Sunshine always quickly follows
Every April rain.

So, just raise your umbrella,
And make a wee, snug bower,
Under which you all may shelter
From an April shower.
—Annie James.

A CHAT WITH THE EDITOR.

My Dear Sunshine Juniors:
I have been pleased again this week to see how willing you are to send in your pennies and dimes and nickels to buy the shoes for the little boy, and there is now plenty to get him a lovely pair, that will last him a long time for best. He and his mother are so pleased about it and want to thank the Juniors over and over again each and every one of them for their kindness. On Saturday afternoon Johnny will get his shoes, and then he will be a glad boy. Up to now there is just $2.08, and I will tell you next week if we got anything but just the shoes. I suppose many of you have been very busy getting ready for Easter. I know I have been very busy this week, and there have not been as many letters as I should have liked about this interesting subject of "My Favorite Holiday."

For next week we will try a kind of a funny subject, and we will try and feel joyful, for Easter should be a joyous time anyway, so we will write on "The Most Comical Incident I Ever Saw." Now, get busy and think up the funniest thing that you can remember, and how you laughed at it, no matter whether it happened here in La Crosse or somewhere else.

There weren't many of you that mentioned whether you would prefer a matinee party or a picnic—don't forget this next time and if we do have a jolly time, we want our little out of town friends to enjoy it with us.

Wishing you all a very joyous Easter-tide, I am,
Yours very truly,
BERTHA BURTON.

MARGARET IS A FAITHFUL WRITER

Dear Miss Burton:
Christmas is my favorite holiday. Because we are all home together and have a nice week's vacation for rest and pleasure.

We give and receive many nice presents.

We generally have a Christmas tree and a nice program at our school.

It is always so nice to go to church on Christmas day, and I think I enjoy my Christmas dinner better than on any other holiday of the year.

Enclosed please find ten cents to help get shoes for the little boy.
Your loving Junior,
MARGARET FARRELL.
La Crescent, Minn.

A LETTER FROM DELLA.

Dear Miss Burton:
I will write you a few lines this evening, since I have been reading the letters over this evening, there are some real nice letters in the Junior page. I am going to be 11 years old the 24th of this month. I am in 4A grade now and my teacher's name is Miss Smith. She is a real nice teacher and she is good.

I have a nice time during my spring vacation. I was out in the country part of the time and had a very nice time. I suppose the Tribune Juniors are glad that spring is now here, anyway I am glad Easter is coming.

I can't think of any more to say, so I will have to close for this time.
From yours truly,
DELLA MILLER.
1251 Farnum street.

A PATRIOTIC GIRL

Well, as the topic is "My Favorite Holiday," my favorite holiday is "Fourth of July." I will describe how we keep our Fourth of July. We have it near some woods and have two swings to swing in and all the children carry flags. We shoot fire crackers all day. The children have to bring something to eat, and it is served for dinner. We have a picnic. I will send a few cents and help the poor boy to get a pair of shoes.

Your friend,
SADIE CHALSMAN.

"MY FAVORITE HOLIDAY"

Kind Miss Burton:
As I did not write last week I will write this week. Easter will soon be here. I think Easter is my favorite holiday because that is the day that Jesus left his grave to go to heaven, to which he leads us from his world. That's why we ought to have Easter for our favorite holiday.

Your loving Junior,
ESTHER NOEM.
1711 Charles St. Age 10 years.

P. S.—I will put in 5 more cents because it is a few more cents needed (Easter is a lovely time surely, Juniors, and I know we all love the time when the flowers begin to bloom.)

TWO OF OUR SUNSHINERS GONE

Dear Miss Burton:
As I did not write for some time I will now try and write. I will send in five cents too, so this makes 10 cents. I hope the little boy will be pleased with the shoes. I hope that lady can go to church on Easter Sunday.

I am glad now that Blanche is well. As I do not feel well, I will not write very much. I have a bad cold.

Your Sunshiner,
HAZEL WOODEN.
P. S.—Eva Swartz moved out in the country and does not take the paper out there. And Bernice King moved away, too.

CARMEN SENDS SOME TICKETS

My Dear Miss Burton:
I have never written to the Junior club but I always read the letters and stories.

I would like to belong to the Red side.

I go to the Third ward school, and am in the 6A grade, in Miss Higbee's room.

If the lady and little boy like music very well I think they might like to go to papa's violin recital. It will be held at the Masonic hall the 22nd of April. The yellow ticket is for the lady and the red for the little boy.

I will try to write on the topic next time.
Your Junior,
CARMEN REUTER.
13 years 511 S. Fifth St.

P. S.—My sister and I are sending the tickets.

(These tickets will be gladly appreciated Carmen, and I am sure they will go.)

ANOTHER LIKES CHRISTMAS

Dear Miss Burton:
Seeing the topic is about "The Holiday I Like Best" I will write upon it. I should think all the Juniors, as well as myself, should like Christmas the best, as we receive so many nice presents we like.

On Christmas eve we always hang up our stockings and I think mamma and papa make a very good Santa Claus.

After that every night for a long time my little sister wants to hang her stocking up.

She thinks that Santa Claus will keep right on coming.

I will inclose ten cents with this letter towards getting that little boy a pair of shoes. Hoping that you will have enough money to get them with. If you have enough money for the boy's shoes without this you can use it towards getting something for his mother. I will bring my letter to a close now with best regards to all the Juniors.

I remain your friend,
VERNICE PIAQUETTE.
French Island.

A NICE LETTER

Dear Miss Burton:
I have not written to the Junior page for a long time, but will take time to write one now. I will send a nickel for the poor boy's shoes. I hope I am not too late with my money.

My favorite holiday is Christmas. One reason is because I like to see the Christmas tree when it is lighted. Another is because I am always anxious when Christmas morning comes so I can see what I got for Christmas, and there are lots of other reasons.

Yes, it would be nice to have a matinee party.

I will close for this time and will try and write every week.

LUCRETIA WAGNER.
Age 11 years. 1228 So. 11th.
P. S.—I wish all the Juniors a happy Easter.

CHRISTMAS SEEMS TO BE THE FAVORITE

My Dear Miss Burton:

Our subject this week was to be "My Favorite Holiday." I think my favorite holiday is Christmas for I enjoy getting nice presents, and also giving nice presents to my friends. I like to go to church and see the nice Christmas tree, with so many nice presents on, and see so many happy children there.

Well, I am tired and think I will bring my letter to a close.

Your loving Sunshiner, MARJORIE PIERCE.

My Dear Miss Burton:
I have not written for the last two or three weeks because I have been so busy with my school work.

Enclosed please find 10 cents for the shoes for the little boy.

My "Favorite Vacation" is summer. I like this best because we always have so many nice picnics, parties, etc. I also go to visit by grandfather at Wabasha and when there take a trip on his steamboat, "La Crosse," from Wabasha to La Crosse and back which is a very pleasant journey.

I also like Christmas vacation for then we can go sliding and skating.
Yours truly,
FRANCES LYONS.
Plainview, Minn.

(It is pretty nice to have a grandpa that really owns a great big steamboat, isn't it Juniors?)

LILLIAN HAS THE RIGHT IDEA

Dear Miss Burton:
As our topic this week is "My Favorite Holiday" I will write on that topic.

I suppose most of the Juniors think Christmas is best because Christ was born, but it wouldn't have done us any good if he hadn't died for us and risen on the third day. So I think Easter is "My Favorite Holiday."

I hope there is enough money in for the boy's shoes. I got two cents from papa to spend, but I thought it was best to save them and send them in for the mother's shoes.

I think it will be nice to have a matinee party.
Your Junior,
LILLIAN OPSAHL.

JUNIOR STORY

GEORGE'S MISTAKE.

George's friends said he was a queer little chap. He always was doing things nobody else would have thought of doing. One evening his mother found him fast asleep in his crib, with her fur collar cuddled up close to his chin. When she asked him the next day why he had taken her new furs to bed with him, he said it seemed like a kitty and he liked to feel the soft hair against his face.

That was only one of the queer things he did. But if his human friends called him a queer little chap, his animal friends, if they could have spoken, would have called him a dear little chap, for his heart was full of love and gentleness for every living thing. He liked to put a little sugar on his wet finger, and then watch the flies gather round to enjoy it. He had a box on the back porch that was filled with grasses and ugly, furry worms that he had picked up in the path.

When George first moved with his father and mother to the edge of the city, where there was room to keep a dog and a cow and some chickens, he was very much troubled because Blossom, the cow, wouldn't make friends with him. He wanted to thank her for the rich sweet milk she gave him every day, but he was such a very tiny boy that Blossom took no notice of him, and as he was a bit afraid of her it seemed as if they never would become acquainted. One day he saw a neighbor's boy giving his cow something that looked just like a ball, and the cow had taken it eagerly and seemed to enjoy it. George went home and hunted up his new Christmas ball. Then he went and sat down on the back steps to think about it. Could he give up the ball that Uncle Charlie had given him, the plaything he had such fun with every day?

But if Blossom liked balls, perhaps that would make them good friends. At last he rose slowly and went out to the back lot to try to make friends with Blossom. But she only gave one little sniff and turned her head away. George didn't know whether he was glad or sorry; but when Blossom turned round and walked away he was quite sure he was sorry. As he grew sorer and sorer, he went in to tell mother all about it.

Mother said she thought it must have been a turnip that the other boy gave to his cow; but if George would get some nice sweet clover from the lawn and carry it out, she thought Blossom would be willing to be friends. So George, glad now to have saved his ball, ran out and gathered a handful of the fresh green leaves, and called upon Blossom again. This time Blossom seemed glad to see him, and she soon learned to watch for him each day as he brought her something fresh and green.

So I think that George's human friends and his animal friends were both right, and that he was a queer little, dear little boy. Don't you?—Lilly Manker Allen.

SISSIE'S AND ANDY'S APRIL FOOL.

(By Maud Walker.)

"Say, mamma, do you know that tomorrow is the first of April?" Sissie asked the question of the mother, rising from her little chair, where she was propped up in pillows, to take a peep out of the window at the children going by on their way to school. "And see how brightly the sun shines, just like a real spring day."

"Yes, dearie, and you will soon be well and strong again," said Sissie's mother, stopping in her work to lay her hand lovingly on her little daughter's head. "You've been ill just three weeks today, and you have been a brave little girl, too, never complaining of the suffering."

"Yes, how glad I shall be to get out again," sighed Sissie. "And how glad I shall be to be able to help you with the work, mamma. It has been very hard on me to lie here, having

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Is the original remedy that "kills the dandruff germ"

Edna D. Allen

WITHOUT dandruff the hair must grow luxuriantly, except in chronic baldness, which is incurable. Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a germ or microbe. To cure dandruff, this germ—a tiny vegetable growth—must be destroyed and kept out of the scalp by Newbro's Herpicide.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

A woman to be pretty must have pretty hair. Beautiful locks have a subtle charm, for the poet says, "fair tresses man's imperial race ensnare." The unpoetic and intensely real dandruff microbe makes the hair dull, brittle and lusterless with later dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Newbro's Herpicide destroys this enemy of beauty and enables the hair to resume its natural luster and abundance. Almost marvelous results sometimes follow the continued use of Herpicide. Overcomes excessive oiliness and makes the hair light and fluffy. It contains no grease or dye. Stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Discriminating ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide, speak of it in the highest terms, for its almost magical effect upon the scalp, and also for its excellence as a regular hair dressing. It is delightfully fragrant and refreshing.

"I have found Newbro's Herpicide excellent for the hair. The first application stops itching of the scalp and it leaves the hair soft and silky."

you wait upon me while your hands were so full of your sewing and the housework. Oh, how much you have to bear, mamma dear." And a tremor was in Sissie's voice.

"I have nothing to complain of so long as I can provide for my dear little Sissie and Andy," said the mother taking up her sewing. "And ever since your dear father went away—two years ago last month—I have prayed for but two things—to be able to hold out with the work I am obliged to do to keep a roof over our heads and food in our mouths and for our dear absent one's return. Somehow I can't give up hope that your father will return, and soon, too. I know everyone is whispering that he is—dead, but within my heart there lives a hope that he is alive and on his way back to us."

"But, mamma dear," said Sissie, "we've only had two letters from him since he reached the Klondike country. And in the last letter he said he'd struck it rich, and that he'd be home within the year. The letter was written in October of last year. And here it is the spring following, and no papa yet." There was a tone of disappointment in Sissie's voice as she spoke and she lay back against her pillow wearily.

"I was just thinking, mamma," she went on, "of how papa used to play April fool with us before he went away to seek for gold in that far-away land. Do you recollect one time—about three or four years ago—when on April fool's day he put sand in the sugar bowl and passed it to brother and me, asking us to hunt for a lump of sugar? And how he put a cotton pie between our plates at dinner, saying it was fresh from the baker's, and that the one who could cut it nearest—make the pieces all of a size—should have a quarter? I begged to be allowed to try cutting it, and Andy begged also for the privilege. Then, to settle the matter without showing favor to either of us, papa had us draw straws, the long straw being the lucky one. I drew the long straw and tried cutting the pie. My, how you all laughed at me, and how papa cried out: 'April fool! Wash your face and go to school!'"

"Yes, yes, those were happy days," sighed the mother, drawing out a long basting thread from her work. "But, dearie, you must not tire yourself talking too much. Just lie still and look out at the bright sunshine. And if I do not chat very much you must not be lonely, for you know I must finish this dress for Mrs. Brown today. She wants to wear it tomorrow night to some sort of social function, and she's very cross if she doesn't get her things at the very moment they have been promised her. So I must work with double energy today to get this dress finished on time. I can't afford to lose Mrs. Brown's patronage. She gives me enough sewing to pay the rent and fuel bill. The work I get from other customers pays for our food, clothing and other little living expenses, and this week I've laid away enough to get a pretty new frock for you and a pair of new shoes for Andy. Dear little brother! wonder what keeps him late at school. I fear he'll be late at school. It's about time for the second bell to ring. Ah, there he comes now. I hear him whistling. Was ever there a finer boy than my Andy?" And the good mother rose to open the door for her son, who came whistling into the house, carrying a big paper-wrapped bundle.

"Here's Mrs. Akerman's dress, mamma. She says she'll be over tomorrow to look through the latest pattern book for the new style. She says everything is here—thread, buttons, lining and bones. But, say, mamma, why does she want bones in her new dress? She's already bony enough, for she looks like an animated skeleton," and Andy laughed as he put the bundle of dress material on the table.

"You're a great joker," declared Sissie, smiling at her brother's wit, made at the expense of Mrs. Akerman. "If it weren't for you, brother, mamma and I'd have little to laugh at these days."

"Oh, so I'm the fool of the family, am I?" And Andy assumed a mock expression of injured feelings. "Well, we'll see who'll be the fool tomorrow. Just you be on your watch-out, Mistress Sissie, or you may have the joke turned on yourself. But there goes the last school bell and I've got to hike like 60 or 100 be tardy, and away went Andy on the fly, covering the distance of two blocks—which he had to traverse to reach the schoolhouse before the last peal of the bell had died away."

"What a cheerful boy Andy is," said the mother, resuming her work. "He's just like your dear father—always happy and full of fun. Even when times were very hard with us, when papa was out of work and almost out of money, he kept up his good spirits and would play and laugh with you little ones just as though he had no weight of care on his heart and mind. He never would give up; and even when he was off to the Klondike country, leaving with us all the money he had except just barely enough to take him there, he was in good spirits and full of hope, telling us that within three years we should all be together and happy, with enough of the world's goods to make us comfortable. Ah, how he infused hope into me! And I've never lost that hope, either. Somehow, your father wasn't the sort of man to succumb to any sort of disaster. And he was physically so strong. He never knew what sickness meant. So I feel sure that he'll be with us—and soon."

That evening after school Andy performed his usual chores and ran several errands for his mother's customers. He always managed to make a few dimes doing odd chores of evenings, and in this way was of much financial aid to his mother as well as being a dear, light-hearted and hopeful little comrade to her and Sissie.

"It's time you were getting to bed, my dears," said the good mother to Sissie and Andy as the clock struck eight. "You know Sissie mustn't tire herself out these first days of her convalescence, and you, Andy, dear, have your lessons for tomorrow. So, get you to bed and sleep, my little chicks."

"Tomorrow's April Fool's Day," said Andy. "And Sissie'd better be on the alert or she'll be elected fool of the family for the next year. Well, so long, mamma mine; good night, Sissie. I do feel sorry for you, kid, die. But it's a feller's privilege to fool even his nearest and dearest on April first. Tata, and happy dreams." And Andy was off to his little room with a happy laugh, which ended with the whistled tune of "Oh I don't know."

The following morning Andy's mother called to him earlier than was her custom. Dawn had scarcely driven the stars from the sky when her voice roused him from slumber. To his surprise, he found Sissie up and dressed when he came into the kitchen, where their mother was preparing breakfast. A fresh steak—tender and juicy—was on the table, all prepared for broiling. The coffee steamed on the stove and toast browned in the oven.

"Whew!" whistled Andy, seeing the spread. "Guess this is a new kind of April-fool surprise. Is that a real steak, mamma, or just a make-believe?" And Andy poked the steak with his finger to test its genuineness.

But at this moment Sissie called his attention to two parcels on the table, one at each of their plates. "Oh," she said, raising her eyebrows, "you can't fool me, Mister Andy. You put that little parcel at my plate, and in order to fool me into opening it you placed one just like it at your own plate."

"What-t-t?" And Andy, his eyes full of wonder, went to the table and looked curiously at the parcel by his plate. "Oh, ho!" he laughed, "so you think that's the way to catch me, do you? I put those things on the table, did I? Well, just you wait till I open that, and then you may laugh. But I'm not so easy, Sissie." And Andy whistled gaily, eyeing his sister the while.

"Pon my honor, I didn't put those parcels on the table," declared Sissie. "And if you didn't do so I have not the slightest notion who did."

Andy knew his sister was in earnest. Then he looked at the parcel a second time, daring this time to touch it. "Mamma did it," he exclaimed, and looked questioningly at his mother whose face shone with happiness. "Why, mommer, what's up?" cried Andy, running to her side. "You look just lovely, you do, didn't you put those parcels on the table for Sis and me?"

"They were put there by your April-fool friend," said their mother. "But why don't you open them and see what the joke can be. You don't mind getting fooled a bit—if the joke is worth the while."

Something in their mother's voice and smile made the children decide to open the parcels. When they did so out rolled a 20-dollar gold piece into each plate. With a cry of happy surprise they looked up at their mother, asking: "Who did this mamma?"

But at the same instant the pantry door slowly opened and into the room came a tall bearded man, his eyes full of love and words of endearment on his lips as he took two happy and excited children in his arms. "Oh, it's daddy who brought the April-fool presents," cried Andy. "Yes, daddy," echoed Sissie.

"And he came before you were awake this morning," explained the happy mother. "Isn't this the greatest April-fool joke you ever had?" "Yes," laughed the father, "I came to be your April Fool."

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST
FOLLOWS WIFE TO HER OTHER HUBBY
ENOCH ARDEN AFFAIR IS FOUND IN PRACTICE
FIRST HUSBAND ON TRAIL
Wife Has New Husband and Little Girl—Claims She Was Divorced
SPOKANE, Wash., April 17.—This is another version of the oft-told story of Enoch Arden, the principals being Richard Evans, son of a prominent fruit grower in the Prosser valley, southwest of Spokane, his wife, who was Florence Maxham, formerly of St. Paul, and Bruce Burt, a traveling representative of a stove polish company.
Burt went to the Evans home at Prosser recently after following Mrs. Evans in the street, and claimed she was his wife in the east, saying she had not been legally divorced. Mrs. Evans told her husband that Burt's story was true, but she declared that her former marriage was annulled and that her father at St. Paul had the documents in the case. She has gone to Seattle, where her mother lives. She left word she will return as soon as she secures the papers. The Evans' have one child.
Burt's visit to Prosser was by the merest accident. The town was not on his itinerary and there is nothing to indicate that he knew his former wife lived there before he met her in the street. He was in town several days and had been arrested for drunkenness by Marshal Shelby, who ordered him to leave town. It was while going to the railway station that he met Mrs. Evans. Burt followed her home, according to the story he told Marshal Shelby. Then came a meeting between the couple.
Miss Maxham was a telephone operator at Sunnyside, Wash., four years ago, when she met Evans, and they were married. Evans said: "I did not know of the history of my wife before I married her. I did not know of her former marriage."

STILLWATER HAS DISASTROUS FIRE

TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLAR BLAZE OCCURS THERE
BLOCK OF BUILDINGS BURN
In Spite of Strong Wind Fire Department Succeeds in Blocking Fire's Progress
STILLWATER, Minn., April 18.—The village of South Stillwater had the most destructive fire in its history early this morning. The blaze started in the William Seacrest saloon at 3 o'clock. There were six buildings of some importance and a number of small buildings totally consumed. It took an hour for the fire department of this city to get to the scene, as it was not called until the flames had spread to other buildings. There was a brisk wind blowing and the danger to a large section of the city was imminent. The engine got water from a creek and soon had the adjoining property under protection.
The loss is about $20,000. The buildings destroyed include the William Seacrest saloon building, the big roller skating rink that was used for all kinds of big gatherings, the Peter Stenlund saloon and building used for other purposes, the Johnson & Thompson saloon, the office building of Dr. W. R. Humphrey, and barber shop of Charles E. Rogentine. The contents of the buildings were also almost all destroyed. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

"Your wife is somewhat strong-minded, isn't she, Littlejohn?" "Strong-minded? A furniture-polish pedlar came along here yesterday, and in five minutes she sold him some polish she had made herself."

SOCIETY

NEXT WEEK FULL OF INTEREST

The week following Easter will be one of many pleasures and a number of dances will be enjoyed. The high school athletic association will have a dancing party on Friday evening, April 24th, at the Coren hall and the La Crosse chapter of the Eastern Star will give one of their delightful dances on Tuesday evening, April 21, in the Masonic temple. A number of guests will be entertained and churches will again be active in social work, while the card clubs will resume playing.

Two or three stellar attractions will be the offerings at the La Crosse theater, which will likely be heavily patronized. The principal attraction of the week, especially to the musical folk, will be the appearance on Thursday evening of the noted baritone singer, Mr. David Bispham. A rare treat is in store for all those who hear Mr. Bispham, America's greatest baritone. In his concert and recital work this winter in the east, he has been in constant demand and never before has his wonderful voice been heard to better advantage than now. Mr. Bispham will give a varied program, and will be assisted at the piano by Harold Osborne Smith, a pianist of great merit who will also render piano solos. A number of Winona people have signified their intention of hearing Mr. Bispham the second time this season, he having given a concert there in March which was the biggest musical event of the year.

Mr. Bispham's program is as follows:

Song Recital—Program.
Der Wanderer Schubert
Creations Hymn (Die Ehre Gottes) Beethoven
Der Hidalgo Schumann
Mr. Bispham.

Im Herbst Fraux
In Waldeseinsamkeit Brahms
O liebliche Wägen Brahms
Mr. Bispham.

"Robert of Sicily" (Longfellow)
For recitation with piano; music by Rosseter Cole.

Mr. Bispham and Mr. Smith.
Ballade G Minor Chopin
Harold Osborne Smith.

Prologue ("Pagliacci") Leoncavallo
The Mad Dog Lehmann
Act 2 "Now Go My Children" The Year of Wakefield
Mr. Bispham.

"Believe me if all those endearing young charms" Old Irish (Tom Moore.)
The Stuttering Lovers (arr. by Herbert Hughes) Old Irish Who Knows (Waller) Max Heinrich
The Hanging of Danny Deever (Kipling) Walter Damrosch
Mr. Bispham.

Mme. Galski, who comes to the theater in May, will be another event of stellar importance, and will also attract many outside musicians. "Peter Pan," that delightful play of the "never, never land," will come to the theater on Wednesday evening, this being the first time that this attraction has played in the west.

"The Time, the Place and the Girl," with the identical cast that played in Chicago, will be the attractive offering Monday evening, and the Dickinson company of players which will play the remainder of the week have some pretentious offerings, among which will be "The Merchant of Venice," and "Richelieu," in which they are said to be very good. Altogether the week is one of opportunity for enjoyment and the spring gatties will soon be in full swing.

S. S. CLASS PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gross of 919 South Sixteenth street, will leave for Oklahoma City to reside, the first of next week. On Tuesday evening the members of Mr. Gross' Sunday school class of the German M. E. church tendered him a farewell party. Games and a social time were indulged in, and light refreshments were served. A beautiful framed picture was presented to Mr. Gross as a token of the esteem in which he is held by his class.

FAREWELL SURPRISE.

Mrs. Schoenheider, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harry Worthington of 908 Vine street, for the past three months, was pleasantly surprised by about 16 of her old friends on Wednesday afternoon. The ladies spent the afternoon and enjoyed a delicious supper at 6 o'clock.

Many beautiful flowers were received by the hostess. Among those present were Mesdames Ruehlman, Sexauer, Hupp, Hallauer, H. A. Salzer, Carl Rau, Wanner, Ulschner, Stellingware, Gross, Prah, Sorgel, Panzlau and Brandenburg. Mr. and Mrs. Schoenheider will leave for their home in St. Paul next week, stopping in Lake City for a short visit.

DINNER.

Mrs. B. S. Steadwell entertained informally at a six o'clock dinner last evening for a few friends. Covers were placed for eight.

THE REUTER CONCERT.

Jacob Reuter, the famous violin virtuoso, will delight once more musical audiences of La Crosse with another of his fine recitals on Wednesday evening, April 22. Mr. Reuter's reputation as a sterling artist is so well known in La Crosse that further comment seems useless. That he has prepared a most wonderful program for his concert must be truthfully admitted by a single glance of the same. Then, too, he has such able assistants as Miss Ida Aiken, soprano, and Mr. Chas. Weiss, who will delight with some fine solos upon the piano. Watch for the program.

OMAGUA CLUB DANCE.

Invitations have been sent out by the Omagua club for a May party that is to be held in the evening of May 1 at the K. of P. hall.

About 100 invitations have been issued, and the affair will no doubt be very enjoyable.
